SYMHEALTH 2017

Globalization is a defining characteristic of the present times. It is explained by the World Health Organization (WHO) as a phenomenon of increasing interconnectedness and interdependence amongst countries which includes the opening of borders to facilitate flow of people, goods, finances, services and ideas across international borders and the changes in institutional and policy regimes at the international and national levels that facilitate or promote such flows.

Alongside globalization, is another phenomenon that has marked a paradigm shift: the emergence of 'knowledge' as the most important and true power of this century. It may be difficult to keep pace with this knowledge explosion; however this is required! One therefore needs to look at the knowledge in different disciplines and consider applying these pearls of wisdom to improve the services offered by one's discipline.

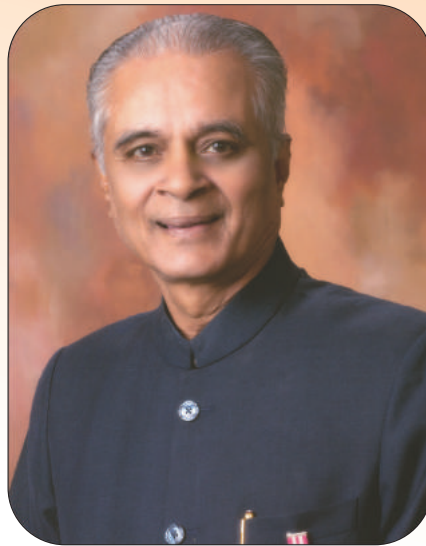

In the dual context of globalization and knowledge explosion, healthcare has assumed centre stage as an area that is becoming increasingly global and knowledge-oriented. A key feature of this dynamically growing healthcare sector is its expansion, to include into its fold, many other disciplines such as Management, Information Technology, Law, Communication, Geospatial Applications, International Relations etc.

In consonance with these transformative forces in a globalizing world, the Faculty of Health & Biomedical Sciences (FoHBS), Symbiosis International University (SIU) has organized SYMHEALTH 2017- An International Conference on Healthcare in a Globalizing World. The objective is to explore enriching healthcare delivery through an interdisciplinary approach. It reflects our belief that in order to facilitate available, affordable & accessible healthcare delivery, one needs to stay abreast with developments in other disciplines in this very well connected & knowledgeable world.

SYMHEALTH 2017 is thus a step towards forging new dialogues with various stakeholders of the healthcare community beyond academia, both in India and abroad, bringing in new insights and perspectives from other fields, offering a platform on which to foster intellectual fellowship amongst all stakeholders and most importantly, being the instrument of global advances in healthcare.

MESSAGE
FROM THE CHANCELLOR'S DESK

Prof. Dr. S. B. Mujumdar
Founder & President, Symbiosis

I compliment the Faculty of Health and Biomedical Sciences (FoHBS), Symbiosis International University (SIU), for organizing SYMHEALTH 2017. This theme 'Enriching Healthcare Delivery through an Interdisciplinary Approach' encapsulates an important subject within the wider domain of 'Healthcare in a Globalizing World'.

It is befitting that the University would convene an event that marks the significance of integrating ideas and information from across many dimensions. This is in consonance with our guiding mission of forging international understanding through quality education.

The Faculty of Health and Biomedical Sciences aims at promoting an innovative interdisciplinary model for both education and training of healthcare professionals. We believe that the act of expanding and disseminating knowledge must not be an insular activity, limited to the institution. It must be debated and contested with peers in academia, the industry, and beyond. I am confident that all stakeholders in health sciences will find opportunities to be heard, to learn, and to collaborate in the upcoming Conference.

I sincerely invite you to join us in making the Conference a success.

MESSAGE
FROM THE VICE CHANCELLOR'S DESK

Dr. Rajani R. Gupte
Vice Chancellor, Symbiosis International University

On behalf of the Symbiosis International University, I invite you to the first interdisciplinary conference on 'Healthcare in a Globalizing World' - SYMHEALTH 2017, organized by the Faculty of Health and Biomedical Sciences. The event focuses 'Enriching Healthcare Delivery through an Interdisciplinary Approach' and is scheduled to take place on May 4, 5 & 6, 2017 at the SIU campus at Lavale.

The Faculty of Health and Biomedical Sciences aims at addressing an impelling need for the application of interdisciplinary approach to the education and training of healthcare professionals. The conference will provide an opportunity for stakeholders beyond academia and industry, to exchange insights, present emerging opportunities, make networking connections, and to share resources.

The interactive panel discussions are divided across eight track sessions, each led by experts. You will notice a rich variety in the subjects of the sessions, each as relevant to health care as the other, ranging from Law and Economics to IT and Engineering. I am sure that the Research paper presentations and poster presentations will enable exchange of ideas and provide impetus to interdisciplinary work across domains.

I encourage you to participate in the Conference to expand your knowledge horizon as well as to forge collaborative networks across disciplines and professions. I have every confidence that the attendees will benefit enormously from the event.

MESSAGE

FROM THE PRINCIPAL DIRECTOR'S DESK

Dr. Vidya Yeravdekar

Principal Director, Symbiosis

It is my pleasure to invite you to attend SYMHEALTH 2017, an interdisciplinary Conference organized by the Faculty of Health and Biomedical Sciences (FoHBS), Symbiosis International University (SIU).

The Conference brings together many important strains of the globalized world and it is quite appropriate that it is hosted by Symbiosis which has championed the values of internationalization and academic excellence since its inception.

The theme this year 'Enriching Healthcare Delivery through an Interdisciplinary Approach' is remarkably relevant to the broader vision of 'Healthcare in a Globalizing World'. It underscores the importance of applying the inter-disciplinary approach to the theory and practice of health sciences, indeed all disciplines. One needs only to consider any one of the urgent public health issues, such as diabetes, to grasp the achievable gains that accrue through a collaborative and trans-disciplinary approach. The Conference will highlight some such contemporary issues in health care that cannot be discussed insularly and beg the context of a wider discourse.

As well as participating in the Conference, I hope that you will take time to explore the historical city of Pune and the scenic locales of our University campus at Lavale. This event promises to be a premier platform to showcase the innovation and dynamism in health sciences in a globalized world.

I wish the Conference great success.
